DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-8, 11-22 and 31-46, drawn to a gene encoding a protein that has an activity of regulating the pH of plant cell vacuoles, a vector, a host cell, a plant, a cut flower, a method of regulating the pH of vacuoles by introducing and expressing a gene, and a method of controlling flower color by introducing and expressing a gene.

Group II, claim(s) 9-10 and 23-30, drawn to a protein and a method of producing a protein.

Group III, claim(s) 47-51, drawn to a method of regulating the pH of vacuoles by suppressing expression of the gene, and a method of controlling flower color by suppressing expression of the gene.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1638

The technical feature linking the inventions of Groups I-III appears to be a gene encoding a protein that has an activity of regulating the pH of plant cell vacuoles. However, a gene encoding a protein that has an activity of regulating the pH of plant cell vacuoles is obvious or anticipated over Gaxiola et al. (Proc. Natl. Acad. Sci. U S A., 1999 Feb 16;96(4):1480-5, Applicant's Search Report), and therefore does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, because it does not define a contribution over the prior art. Furthermore, the nucleic acid of Group I and the protein of Group II do not share a common property or activity that is a special technical feature, as the activity of regulating the pH of plant cell vacuoles is known in the art. Additionally, the nucleic acid of Group I and the protein of Group II do not share a common structure or significant structural element that is a contribution over the prior art, and thus a special technical feature does not link them. The methods of Groups I-III are also not linked by a special technical feature, as expressing a gene, producing a protein, and suppressing expression of a gene are all known in the art, and thus do not constitute special technical features.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
